

WILSON POLICY BRINGS NATION INTO DISHONOR, SAYS ROOSEVELT

Former President During Address in Brooklyn Bitterly Arraighs Administration For Its Failure To Protest Against Invasion

DECLARES TOUTONS HAVE CONTEMPTUOUSLY DEFIED US

Tells His Hearers Washington Has Brought Ignominy Upon Country By Attempt To Avoid Its Legitimate Obligations

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) NEW YORK, January 31.—That Germany has contemptuously defied the government of the United States time and time again since the outbreak of the war, and that the Wilson administration has acted a dishonorable part in the world drama which has filled the pages of the history of the last twenty months, was the gist of the strenuous address made by former President Theodore Roosevelt before a crowded audience at the Brooklyn institute of arts and science last night.

Strikes Out Hard
The former Rough Rider, looking pretty much the same as he has looked for years, and speaking with all of his accustomed vim and energy, struck straight out from the shoulder, and was wildly applauded by the large throng which had turned out to hear him.

He discussed the international crisis between this country and both groups of the warring nations in Europe, asserting that the policy of the President has been such as to satisfy neither side to the war either at home or abroad, and has simply doubled the difficulties which this country has had to face, without gaining any advantage which might be supposed to accrue from a strictly neutral attitude.

Outlines War History
His theme for the address was the promises and performance of international obligations and relations, and he held his hearers spell-bound while he outlined the history of the war, and of the part America has played in the European strife and in Mexico.

Speaking of The Hague peace tribunal and the convention to which the United States is a party, the former president declared that nothing could have been more dishonorable or cowardly than the stand of inaction taken by the Wilson administration.

The United States was bound in honor, he declared, to insist that the treaties between Germany and Belgium, which protected the weaker nation from the aggression of the stronger, should be observed in spirit and in letter. That the Washington government had done nothing, not even to filing a protest against the action of Germany in occupying Belgium, despite the struggle of the Belgians, was a disgrace to the nation, asserted the speaker, who was interrupted by repeated cheering.

Condemns Contempt
Continuing, Mr. Roosevelt took up the consequences of this policy, which he epitomized as "supine," and declared that it had earned the contempt of all nations. Germany, in particular, he declared, had shown how she regarded it, by repeatedly flouting the feeble protests which the administration had finally filed, and had gone on sinking unarmed merchant ships carrying American citizens about their lawful business on the high seas.

Washington, concluded the speaker, defied and ignored, sat still and did nothing, save write further notes, which brought nothing in the way of results save further defiance.

PREPAREDNESS FAILED AT MONSTER MEETING

Telegrams From Bryan and Ford Greeted With Cheers

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) WASHINGTON, January 31.—Telegrams from William J. Bryan and Henry Ford announcing the "preparedness" program of the Wilson administration, brought volleys of cheering at a mass meeting held here last night under the auspices of eighteen peace-at-any-price societies.

Among the speakers at the meeting were six congressmen, all of whom denounced any preparedness propaganda. Representative Callaway, a member of the gathering that advocates of "preparedness" just want to spend the money of the American taxpayer lavishly. He pointed out the fact that the United States can ever go to war, saying that the conflict in Europe has taught the world the lesson of the folly of such strife.

BERLIN REFUSES IN LUSITANIA CASE TO DISAVOW DEED

London Gives News To This Effect and That Washington Has Reply of Germany

FINAL WORD SAID

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) LONDON, January 31.—Berlin will make no further concessions in the Lusitania case. Such was the report which reached official circles here last night, coincident with the news that Washington had received the final note from Berlin.

The German government, it is declared, has refused to disavow the action of the submarine commander in sinking the Lusitania, or even to disapprove that action.

Berlin, it is added, says in the answer to President Wilson's notes, that the Kaiser's government is prepared to carry out the promises already made, and will pay an indemnity for each of the Americans drowned by the Teutonic submarine's torpedo, but that is as far as she will go.

She refused to hold the diver's commander responsible for the death of citizens of foreign countries who might have been aboard the Cunard liner when she was sunk.

RUSSIANS ADVANCING THROUGH ASIA MINOR

Slavs Reported To Have Surrounded City of Erezum

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) LONDON, January 31.—The Russian forces operating in the Transcaucasian region of Asia Minor are reported to have completely surrounded the ancient Turkish city of Erezum, from which the Ottoman authorities are said to have fled, carrying with them the archives of the city and destroying much of the supplies stored there.

Despatches from Athens also report that Russian columns of great strength are advancing in the direction of the Tigris Valley, north of Bagdad, aiming to effect a diversion in favor of the British at Kut-el-Amara. There is talk in semi-official circles here of a Slav offensive which would cut off the attacks of the British force now besieged at Kut-el-Amara.

This last Slav column is apparently operating with Hamadan, Persia, as a base. Hamadan fell into Russian hands some time ago.

INGRATITUDE STIRS WRATH OF BRITAIN

No minor incident of the war has so stirred up the British press recently as the report from German sources that Karl Neufeld, the German trader and traveler well known in the Near East, has been trying to influence the Mohammedan tribes in Persia and Arabia against the Allies. Neufeld was released from prison by Lord Kitchener and the British troops at Omdurman in September, 1909. For two years he had lain in a Mahdist jail, subjected to horrible tortures, according to his own account.

In his book describing his adventures, Neufeld tells how, on being thrown into prison, three sets of iron shackles were attached to his feet and rings and chains fastened about his neck. He was often flogged, and on one occasion he received 500 lashes. From these horrors he was saved by the British and returned to freedom.

During his imprisonment Neufeld gained a fluent knowledge of Arabic and an intimacy with Mohammedan life and customs known to few whites. Like Burton, he made pilgrimages in native guise, both to Medina and Mecca. It was at Medina that his identity was suspected and he was made to take an oath that he was a Musselman and to undergo a searching examination on the Koran by Mohammedan doctors, from which he emerged successfully.

At this time, it is declared, Neufeld did a service to his country that brought him his reward in this war. He spread the belief among the ignorant Mohammedan populace that there were many Mohammedans in Germany. In fact the current belief in Islam that the Kaiser is the grand caliph of the European Mohammedans, and went to war to free them from Christian oppression is attributed to Neufeld's busy propaganda.

There is a story that Neufeld recently went to Germany not only as the bearer of valuable political and military information for the German government but also of a bottle of miracle-working water from the sacred Zem-Zem well at Mecca, given him by the faithful as a cure for General von Hindenburg's gout. According to the traveler Burton, Zem-Zem water is bitter to the taste and causes diarrhea and boils, but the faithful say that it not only restores health but brightens the vision, physically and spiritually, and facilitates the pronunciation of Arabic.

All that is known about Neufeld's activities comes from the German papers, and for that reason they are accepted as true by the British press, which accuses Neufeld of ingratitude toward his rescuers.

Omdurman, where Neufeld suffered, has, say the British, been brought under justice and order by British rule, and it is this benefit to the natives in particular and civilization in general, they declare, that Neufeld is seeking to destroy.

COLONEL HOUSE LEAVES BERLIN AFTER CONFABS

German People Speculate On Warning Sounded By President

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) BERLIN, January 31.—Col. R. E. House, personal agent of President Wilson, and believed to have been entrusted with a secret mission to the American ambassadors in Europe by the chief executive, left here last night for Paris and London, where he will confer with diplomatic circles. He will journey via Switzerland.

Before leaving here Colonel House said that he is convinced that his conversations with Teutonic officials, statesmen and officers, and particularly with Ambassador Gerard, will do much to clarify the atmosphere of German and American relations. He declared that the German people are anxiously seeking enlightenment from all possible sources regarding the attitude of America towards things Teutonic, and they are endeavoring to figure out just which of the warring groups of nations President Wilson had in mind when he made his address in New York the other night.

His warning to the American people of the uncertainty of international relations has caused considerable talk here, and, according to Colonel House, Germans are wondering whether Mr. Wilson referred to them or to the Entente Powers.

ANOTHER ZEPPELIN RAID ON PARIS IS FRUITLESS

Bombs Dropped Friday Night Killed Twenty-Four Persons

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) LONDON, January 31.—Another Zeppelin raid on Paris last night was productive of slight results, according to the early reports reaching this city.

Twenty-four persons were killed outright and twenty-seven more or less severely injured by the bombs dropped night before last on the French capital by the raiding Teutonic Zeppelins.

It was at first reported that but ten were killed, the later number having been given out yesterday morning by the French war office, after full reports of the results of the raid became known.

In the official announcement giving the details of the raid, it was asserted that the heavy fog which shrouded the skies to the north and east of Paris at the time of the raid was responsible largely for the success of the attack and for the escape of the raider, from the counter-attack by French aviators and anti-aircraft guns.

REPORTS OF AN ATTACK ON FRENCH FRONT VARY

Paris Claims Success, Which Is Denied By Berlin

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) LONDON, January 31.—Once again the French and German reports of the same operations in France conflict. All that is evident from the official accounts is that there has been another attack by the Teuton army on the trenches south of the river Somme and still further north at Neuville.

Paris officially reports that the French troops were at first compelled to retire from their positions at Dom-pierre, south of the Somme, but that in a counter-attack they drove the Germans out of the captured breastworks, and compelled them to give up the ground they had won.

Berlin denies that last report, saying flatly that "all the ground gained by the offensive near Neuville and south of the river Somme we have successfully held, the counter-attack by the French having been repulsed."

PRESIDENT WILL SPEAK TONIGHT IN MILWAUKEE

Announcement Made Yesterday That Nearly All the Bonds of the Hilo Railroad Company are Now in the Hands of the Trustees Here

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) CLEVELAND, January 31.—President Wilson left here last night on his way to Milwaukee, where he expects to deliver an important address in his campaign for preparedness this evening. Because of the large foreign-born population of Milwaukee, it is expected that the President will urge on his hearers that all Americans, no matter where they live, are responsible for America's safety, and also to repeat his warning against continued unpreparedness, because of the uncertainty of the international situation.

HILLO RAILROAD BONDS IN HANDS OF TRUSTEES

Announcement was made yesterday that nearly all the bonds of the Hilo Railroad Company are now in the hands of the trustees here. The foreclosure sale is to be held February 26 at Hilo, and no delay is anticipated before the bondholders assume charge of the company. Until the foreclosure sale an announcement of policy can be made.

CHANGE REVEALS BRUTAL MURDER NEAR SCHOFIELD

Body of Colored Soldier, With Throat Cut, Found On Kolo-kole Road

THREE BULLETS FIRED INTO SLAIN PRIVATE

No Clue To Slayer, Say Army Officers Now Investigating Crime

Brutally slain, the body of Pvt. Jesse Ector, Company H, Twenty-fifth Infantry, was found yesterday afternoon on the Kolo-kole road, just off the military reservation at Schofield barracks. The man's throat had been cut from ear to ear and three bullets had been fired into his body at close range. There is no clue to the murderer.

Some soldiers who were tramping camp across the body, lying in a little plot of grass about 250 yards from the barracks, saw the crime. The man's body was found near the Kolo-kole pass, at the top of the new road. From the position in which the body lay it had evidently rolled down the hillside. The discovery was made about half past three o'clock.

The soldiers at once reported their discovery, and a party, including a doctor, went out from the barracks to view the body.

On their return with confirmation of the news brought by the soldiers, Assistant Adjutant Lieut. William A. Gance of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, telephoned to Sheriff Rose and notified him of the finding of the body. This was done as a matter of courtesy, the military authorities having no jurisdiction in the matter as the body had been found off the reservation, and the coroner's permission being needed before moving the remains. Sheriff Rose last night notified Deputy Sheriff H. Plemer of Wahiawa of the affair, and he in turn got in touch with Deputy Sheriff B. Chittenden of Wahiawa.

As far as is known the body had been lying where it was found all Thursday night. No weapon, as far as was learned last night, was found near the dead man, nor was there any clue to the slayer, army officers said.

Equally at Schofield barracks last night, the information that Ector had been shot without leave about forty-eight hours. The body was in a decomposed condition, and had probably been lying where it was found for about thirty-six hours.

Investigation was effected by means of an identification found on the body. His name, which was found lying near the body, also had his name written in it. Last night a military board began to investigate the matter.

Ector was a little short of 30 years of age, and had been a member of Company H, two years and six months. His record is said to have been poor, as he had frequently been absent from his post without leave. In fact, he has been in trouble on that account, of late, an uncompleted investigation of his conduct being still pending.

It is possible that the soldier was held up, robbed and killed after having crossed the Kolo-kole pass from Wahiawa, he and some companions may have been going to a town from Wahiawa via the pass and had a quarrel which resulted in his murder.

Two weeks ago last Tuesday G. M. George, an aged moneylender, was found with his brains beaten out at Schofield barracks, for suspected complicity in which crime Jesse Duke, colored, a civilian employee of the army quartermaster's department was placed under arrest by the federal authorities, and is now in the territorial jail under a $10,000 bond.

SUBMARINE K-5 LOST IN FOG ON ATLANTIC

Wireless Message From Craft Says She Is Afloat

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) CHARLESTON, South Carolina, January 31.—The K-5, one of five submarines of the K type, is lost in a fog off the coast, and for a time last night fears for her safety were felt here.

Later reports by wireless from the craft and from ships which had gone to her rescue proved reassuring.

In company with three of her sister submarines, the K-5 was on her way to Key West for maneuvers. Sunday morning, about one o'clock, she parted company with the rest of the flotilla when off Cape Roman, South Carolina. When she failed to join the others on their arrival at the Charleston harbor, it was feared that she had foundered. The lighthouse tender Mangrove, which was in port, left here at once on a search for the missing craft.

DON'T COUGH
It is absurd to allow a cough to hang on and sap your vitality when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure you. You don't know where a persistent cough will land you. You can't afford to allow your throat and lungs to become diseased when it is such a simple thing to step into a chemist's shop and get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

KANAI TEACHERS HOLD CONVENTION

Annual Session of Garden Island Instructors Proves Most Successful One

(Special Special to The Advertiser.) LIHUE, January 29.—Kana'i teachers held their regular annual convention in Lihue today, attending three sessions. It was considered the most successful meeting ever held on the Garden Isle, and the teaching force as well as numerous friends and guests all worked together to make the meeting one of instruction and value.

Eric Knudsen, the commissioner of education for Kana'i, was elected president of the Teachers Association and presented after former commissioner and president Theodore Brandt, had opened the meeting and conducted the election. Address to Teachers

Perhaps the most important event of the day was the address delivered by James A. Wilson and Pres. E. A. Brandt during the evening session. With the subject "Scouting on Kana'i," Mr. Wilson delightfully explained Scouting, its oath, law and ideals, and discussed the formation of boy scout troops on Kana'i. He stated that scouting was practically applied education, teaching boys self-reliance, leadership, and citizenship, as well as loyalty, obedience, reverence and a thorough love and appreciation of nature. He stated also that had the scout movement been in existence forty years ago, the world would today have been better able to cope with the great war and its prevention.

"Be Prepared" Principle
One of the fundamental principles of scouting, "Be Prepared," in regard to the scout law, he said that it was religious enough for any man, although the organization is strictly non-sectarian. He announced that an independent branch would be formed in Kana'i, with E. Allen Crosey as leader, and the latter announced the names of the local scoutmaster and scout masters, which included Hon. W. H. Rice, president, with Messrs. Knudsen, Coney, Brandt, Robinson, McBryde, Timmons, Avery, and Dickey among the number in the council, and Messrs. McCall, Hennis, and Schwartz as scout masters. Science and Education

President Dean of the College of Hawaii, lectured on the subject "Science and Education." He spoke of the continued and tremendous growth of every branch of science and its relation to practical education. The stages of science are observation, reasoning and imagination with the moral quality of absolute honesty. The stages of education are the acquisition of knowledge and then the development of the power to do.

Mental power means the ability to concentrate, to suspend judgment and to vision. Both science and education work toward these ends. Children should be taught to observe and reason, and more science should be introduced into the curriculum. When proper methods and text books have been introduced, then science will take its proper place in the elementary schools.

Mr. Horner Talks
The other events of the evening were a clever talk by Albert Horner Jr., "Important Facts of History," a vocal solo by Miss Waterhouse, a violin solo, an excellent rendition of "Laguna" by Mr. Carden and a vocal solo by Mrs. W. H. Rice Jr., and some songs by a double quartette.

During the morning and afternoon sessions very interesting and helpful addresses on school topics were given by various teachers and friends of the school. The course of study and the examination system and question, received their due share of discussion. J. H. Coney very clearly explained the practical way in which school laws and affairs were handled in the legislature. Mr. Brandt discussed the formation of a Y. M. C. A. on Kana'i, and Mr. Loomis of Honolulu, spoke in regard to taking up the work as a field secretary. Judge L. A. Dickey read a well worked out discussion of the Penion Act and its relation to the teachers.

Many Teachers Present
One hundred and ten teachers and the numerous guests brought the attendance to a high mark. The luncheon given at the Lihue hotel, and the dinner for which the music was furnished by Hon. Charles Rice added greatly to the day's success. The very excellent illustrative material shown by many of the teachers, and the splendid suggestions made for the betterment of the system showed that education on Kana'i is well developed. Special emphasis was laid on the subjects of English, Geography and Hygiene, and the papers read by Miss Katherine McIntyre of the Kana'i high school, Mr. Henry Brown of Wahiawa, and Mrs. S. D. Heapy of Maunaloa, were particularly helpful.

STORM HURTS COFFEE CROPS IN KONA DISTRICT

The recent kona storm did considerable damage on the west side of the island of Hawaii and the coffee crop, especially in North Kona, was badly damaged, except in the Kailua and Hapaunani districts.

John P. Curtis of Kailua reports that there was a big crop of ripe coffee on the trees when the first storm came along in November. The wind stripped the trees and blew coffee, leaves and small branches off on to the ground. Fortunately the second storm avoided the coffee districts. There was a good deal of rain and a very heavy fluke of blossom. This has set well, Mr. Curtis stated, and there is every indication of a heavy crop in 1916.

The Kailua and Hapaunani crop was almost up to the average but in all other parts of North and South Kona yields have been very poor.

SCHOONER REPEAT TAKEN TO ASTORIA BY COASTING SHIP

Roanoke Tows Lewers & Cooke Schooner, Abandoned Wednesday, Into Safety

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) PORTLAND, Oregon, January 28.—The schooner Repeat, waterlogged and abandoned at sea fifty miles south of the Columbia River bar Wednesday night, was towed into Portland by the steamer Roanoke last night.

Advices to the Merchants' Exchange last night said the Repeat had been taken into Astoria. Astoria and Portland are near each other and the difference in the advices is immaterial, for the schooner, seemingly lost Wednesday night, has been saved. The news was communicated to F. J. Lowry, president of Lewers & Cooke, owners of the vessel and lumber cargo, last night. He had received no direct advice since the radiogram came from Capt. J. R. Mackenzie yesterday morning, saying that the schooner was waterlogged; had been taken in tow by the steamer Avalon, which, however, had to abandon her, and that the crew was safe.

The Repeat's seams opened in the heavy pounding of seas kicked up by a gale and she became waterlogged. The Avalon took off the crew Wednesday and towed her four hours before she gave it up, having made no progress. The crew was landed at South Bend.

The Roanoke is a coasting vessel. Advices to the Merchants' Exchange, received yesterday afternoon, said that the vessel had been found and was being towed into Astoria.

Mr. Lowry estimated that the cargo was about 500,000 feet of northwest lumber.

CHINESE LEADER ON MISSION TO JAPANESE

(Special Cablegram to Nippon Jiji.) TOKIO, January 28.—Tsun Chuan-huan, a noted liberal of China and a leader of the revolutionary troops of Yunnan province, arrived in Japan today, on an unknown mission. Following the action of Germany in recognizing the provisional government of Yunnan province, Foreign Minister Ishii has appointed G. Mori as Japanese consul to Yunnan. He formerly was consul at Vancouver. Japan had not been represented in Yunnan prior to the revolutionary outbreak.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

ALLIES HUNTING DOWN SUBMARINE BASES OF FOE

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) PARIS, January 28.—Presumably in further efforts to seek out the hostile submarine bases on the Mediterranean sea and adjacent waters, the French have landed soldiers on the Antipolo coast of Asia Minor and captured the Turkish garrison there. The continued appearance of submarines in the Mediterranean has convinced the Allies that the enemy's submarine bases had been established on the islands or somewhere on the little-known coasts.

JAPANESE FISH BARRED FROM COAST STREAMS
(Special Cablegram to Hawaii Shimpo.) SAN FRANCISCO, January 28.—Although many Americans have come to like the loach, a Japanese fish that has been introduced into the United States by the Fish Commission of California, today decided that the fish should not be imported here as they do nothing to keep the rivers clean. The fish are very palatable and an effort had been made to plant them in the rivers of California.

STEAMERS IN COLLISION OFF THE COAST OF WALES
(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) LONDON, January 31.—The American liner Philadelphia and the British steamer Ben Lee were reported to have been in collision last night off Carnarvon Bay, on the coast of Wales. The Philadelphia is putting back into the mouth of the Mersey, where she will be repaired before proceeding on her way. The Ben Lee is said to be waterlogged. No casualties are reported.

HILLO IS WARRANT OFFICER ON SARATOGA
With the U. S. S. Saratoga now in port here, Thomas Todd, a warrant officer, "Tommy" is a Hilo boy and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Todd of the second city. Mr. Todd has been chairman of the first Hawaii board of supervisors and is at present one of the members of the same board. This is young Todd's first visit to his native home in probably ten years, he having left Hilo when a very young man and going to the Philippine Islands, where he remained all this time, mostly in Uncle Sam's naval service.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure piles, bleeding, itching or protruding PILES in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. Manufactured by the PARIS MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, U. S. A.

LOOTING ADDS TO HORROR OF OTAY VALLEY CATASTROPHE

Hundreds of Wrecked Homes Are Pillaged Until Admiral Fullam Orders Marines and Sailors To Shoot All Vandals On Sight

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) SAN DIEGO, January 31.—What Admiral William F. Fullam, commanding the Pacific Fleet, called the worst outbreak of looting he ever seen, broke forth when the floods subsided in the Otay valley, leaving the wreckage of hundreds of homes behind it.

Ignoring the presence of detachments of marines and sailors from the Oregon, the South Dakota and the Milwaukee, rushed to the valley by Admiral Fullam, as soon as news of the disaster reached him, looters began ransacking the houses stranded by the floods, breaking down doors, forcing their way through broken windows, and carrying away what they found with brazen indifference to the commands of the marines and sailors to stop.

The looters refused the appeals of the naval forces to come and help in the work of rescue and search for the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.

All day yesterday the sailors and marines from the warships, assisted by volunteers from this city, searched the bodies of the unfortunate victims of the flood, until reports to the admiral brought the command to his men to shoot any looters they may see without waiting to give warning.